Upon the announcement that the Buthe telephone company as to certain data poncerning mechanical equipment and sesired more time for presentation of their facts, although able to present what they have on hand. Attorney Swayze stated that his compaly hoped that the Commission would give immediate relief and later proceed with its investigations along other lines. investigations along other lines.

Awaits All the Facts. To this Commissioner Brownlow, chairman of the Commission, replied:

"The question of immediate relief by the commission until all the facts are in. We have been informed that the Bureau of Standards has certain other material facts, and we know that the record in this case does not disclose all the facts. We also know That the records are so extremely contradictory in many respets that it would be impossible for the commission to consider the question of rellef, either temporary or perma-ment, until all the testimony that can be adduced is adduced; certainly we cannot decide it until we have all the data that can be prepared and ought to be completed in a few days."

CAMP MEADE, Md., June 25 .- As a joke factory the new gas pit has all other jocular places in camp beaten.

Some of the jokes are gruesome,

"I smelt the breath of the devil!"

said one rookie coming out of the long pit.

"I came near dying, lieutenant?"

"Is that so, well we like to have a few casualties every day."

All other centers for bad news are thrown out of focus by what one hears at the gas pit.

"Any serious injuries?"

Nothing is left undone to strike terror to the rookies there. That is the whole object of the ordeal. Tak-ing the gas dip involves a risk, and svery man is supposed to know it.

Real poison gas is used. When a long line has gone gaily into the pit the English sergeant major turns on the spigot of the big tank and the men unpleasant to be met within the whole brought gas into war. In their rage
